DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1- 16 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1-8 of copending Application No. 10057187. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both applications disclose the use of a butterfly damper comprising an inner circumferential frame; an outer circumferential frame; and at least one arm member having one end connected to the outer frame and an other end connected to the inner circumferential frame..

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ohyaba et al.

Ohyaba et al discloses the use of a butterfly damper for a speaker comprising an inner circumferential frame; an outer circumferential frame wherein: the arm members (claims 3 and 4) have a race track shaped cross section and a curved surface(claims 1 and 2) (see figure 2). Ohyaba et al further discloses the use of a resin integrally molded damper (column 3, lines 57-63)(claim 5) and injection molded resin (column 3, lines 63-68) (claims 6-8). Ohyaba et al also discloses a damper having opposite end surfaces and an inner peripheral surface, said inner peripheral surface being connected to the opposite end surfaces to form opposite connecting edge portions ; and at least one arm member (42) having one end connected to the outer circumferential frame and an other end connected to the inner circumferential frame, wherein: the one end of arm members(42) (claim 4) with a curved surface (claim 2) that is connected to a portion of the inner peripheral surface of the outer circumferential frame, the portion excluding the opposite connecting edge portions (see figure 2). Ohyaba clearly discloses the use of an arm member having a rectangular cross section with four curved corners (see figure 3) having a predetermined radius of curvature, in a perpendicular direction to a longitudinal direction of the arm member.

4. Claims ⁹⁻¹⁶~~10-16~~ are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art does not disclose the specifics of the thickness of the outer circumferential frame as recited by the applicant.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 9/8/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Ohyaba clearly discloses the use of an arm member having a rectangular cross section with four curved corners (see figure 3) having a predetermined radius of curvature, in a perpendicular direction to a longitudinal direction of the arm member. Ohyaba clearly discloses in figure 1 and figure 3, a rectangular cross section of arms (42) with four curved corners.
